A HORRIBLE AFFAIR.

A Woman Ravished and Mortally Injured by Her Husband's Nephew—The Wretch Afterward Attempts to Kill Himself.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

LONDONDERRY, N. H., Feb 8 —A fearful tragedy was enacted near this place yesterday, in which Mrs. Sarah, aged 33, wife of E N Dillingham, a respectable farmer, was the victim, and the nephew of her husband, Frank Dillingham, aged about twenty, was the criminal. Frank went to live with his uncle last April, and yesterday Mr Dillingham went to Manchester, leaving his nephew at work near the house. During the afternoon, William Wallace, a brother of Mrs. Dillingham, called to see his sister, and found the doors locked and the curtains drawn down. Supposing her to be asleep, he returned home Soon after, Frank called at the country store of David Burns, only about 40 rods from the place of the tragedy, and called for Frank Burns, who came to the door, and young Dillingham said "I have shot aunt Sarah." He was immediately taken into custody by persons in and about the store, who took him to Dillingham's house. Upon entering, a fearful spectacle met their gaze. Mrs. Dillingham was lying on the floor in a front room on her back with several garments thrown over her head and body. Upon examination they found a rope drawn tightly around her neck. Her clothing was disarranged and her face purple from the severe choking produced by the rope A bullet wound was discovered at the base of the skull, the bullet having passed through the brain. Physicians were immediately summoned, who pronounced the case fatal, and death is momentarily expected Frank says that he was cleaning a revolver, which was accidentally discharged; but does not attempt to account for the rope around his aunt's neck or the disordered condition of her underclothing. He says that he went into the woods back of the house and tried to shoot himself with the same revolver, but failed through lack of courage or some other cause, although one ugly bullet hole was made in his forehead, the ball penetrating the skull. Mrs Dillingham, the victim of the terrible affair, is a comely, modest appearing young woman, very highly respected The conclusion can hardly be avoided that the unfortunate woman was ravished either before or after the shooting, and choking, and that her assailant then seeing the fearful crime he had committed, hastily fastened the door, pulled down the curtains and returned to the forest in the rear of the house with the intention of ending his miserable existence His wound is not thought to be fatal.

DIPLOMATIC AND OTHERWISE.

Some Interesting Facts about Matters in Central Asia.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

LONDON, Feb 7 —The blue book on Afghan affairs has been issued Gen Roberts reports a conversation held in October, 1879 with Yakoob Khan who stated that the British mission under Sir Neville Chamberlain was turned back by the advice of the Russian envoy at Cabul, Stolietoff and that when Shere Ali quit Afghanistan in December, 1878 he issued a firman to the authorities at Herat declaring that Stolietoff had written him as follows "The emperor's desire that you should not admit the English into your country, and, like last year you are to treat them with deceit until the cold season passes away then the Almighty's will will be made manifest to you, that is to say, the Russian government will come to your assistance by diplomatic action by which we will entirely cut off all English communication and interference with Afghanistan, or events will end in a mighty and important war" The blue book, respecting affairs in Central Asia shows that on the 9th of July, 1879 Lord Salisbury, minister of foreign affairs asked Count Schouvaloff, the Russian ambassador to England, whether there was any truth in the reports that the expedition from the Caspian was intended to occupy Merv Count Schouvaloff said that the expedition was directed against the Tekke-Turcomans and that he entirely disbelieved the existence among any section of Russian statesmen of a wish to advance on Merv On the 16th of July last, Digiers of the foreign office reported these assurances to Lord Dufferin British ambassador to Russia, in the most positive form

Another Villainous Steal Attempted by the Democrats

BOSTON Feb 7 —A democratic plot has been discovered to Garcelonize Vermont It appears that the constitutional requirement that the ballots cast at elections be taken to Montpelier and counted, has long been disregarded by republicans The Bourbon conspiracy comprehends sending in the votes cast in all democratic towns and at the proper time present a demand for a constitutional canvass the result of which would be a Mossbank triumph The scheme is said to have its origin in the brains of the democratic national committee To head off the attempt to carry it into execution the republican managers will soon direct every town clerk to search the organic law of the state and make a note of that portion referring to election returns

Some Interesting Facts in Connection with the Harrisburg Job.

CHICAGO Feb 7 —The Tribune's Washington correspondent gives facts of some importance connected with the Harrisburg convention, which have not yet been reported Five seats were contested Holders of these seats were all Blaine men The contests were referred to a machine committee and all contestants seated They were without exception Cameron men This made a difference of ten votes on a test ballot and but for this arbitrary action of the Cameron managers, Grant would have had only 10 instead of 20 majority

Commencing Early

Specials say there was a disgraceful squabble which ended in a fisticuff between two parties of negroes yesterday, at a district republican convention to appoint delegates to the Chicago convention The contestants were partisans of Grant and of Blaine

Presidential Scheming.

The Times says referring to its Washington dispatches that Gen Grant's friends at Washington are so confident of his nomination at Chicago that they are discussing the advisability of sounding Blaine on the subject of accepting the second place on the ticket The theory entertained in some quarters that the general will not enter the canvass unless his nomination is secured without a contest, is ridiculed at the capital Meanwhile opinions differ greatly about the position of Sherman and Blaine One old politician says that it was very shrewd of Sherman to put up Blaine to antagonize Grant Said he "Blaine has begun the fight upon Grant, and it is now impossible for him to come in as an heir to Grant's strength In case Grant is withdrawn, these votes would much more naturally go to Sherman Friends of Blaine said to-day, that the latter was not doing anything in the way of organizing, as he did the last time, and that he did not intend to raise his hand All that is done must be done by his friends He does not intend to [illegible] any sunstrokes from disappointment this time.

TAXATION

FEBRUARY 7 1880

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Permit me to say that your nameless correspondent of THE OREGONIAN is again misinformed In everything he states in his letter this morning he is totally incorrect There is not now nor for some time has there been, any such company as that he names making mortgage or any other loans in Oregon or anywhere else either directly or indirectly or in any manner or way whatsoever

The Oregon and Washington Mortgage Savings Bank of Portland—a very large number of whose stock holders are citizens of Oregon is the only mortgage bank or company making such loans in Oregon and the assessor of the county says it pays a tax on $100 000

WILLIAM REID

Sentiment toward Grant.

[Washington Special Jan 21 ]

Hon Fred Hassurek of Cincinnati is here and is the recipient of a good deal of attention as it is conceded that the German citizens of Ohio hold the key of every important position It is known that Mr Hassurek is well acquainted with the opinions and feelings of the German citizens of Ohio and he is asked forty times daily by the third termers as well as by the Blaine and Sherman men whether it is really true that the bulk of the German citizens will not support Grant under any circumstances Mr H is quite explicit on this point saying that so far as his knowledge and observation go the Germans will not sanction Grant and a third term

He Doesn't Understand Us

[New York Commercial Advertiser ]

The Duke of Argyll thinks the extravagance of our rich people exceeds anything known to the nabobs of the Old World The noble duke forgets how much it costs us to keep up appearances but he has never been an editor He cannot know the constant calls there are upon our purse

THE EXODUS INVESTIGATION

A Mulatto Who Would Rather Live in Hell than in Indiana

Testimony Showing How Destitute Negroes were Treated on Arriving at Shelbyville—Other Evidence

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON Feb 8 —Before the senate exodus committee to-day Hon [illegible] Hackney prosecuting attorney for the district of Shelbyville Ind testified that colored emigrants arrived at Shelbyville in December 12th last The mayor called a meeting of the council and provision was made for the destitute About 20 came afterward These men are still scattered in or about the town Witness had heard of two or three other companies coming near Shelbyville The county is democratic but the congressional district is doubtful and very close A meeting of citizens was held at which it was resolved that the law of 1852 inflicting a penalty of $500 upon any one who should bring a pauper into the state should be enforced by proper officers There is no doubt that all democrats dislike to see the emigrants come and probably most of the republicans do also The laboring class generally discountenances the movement The demand for labor in Shelby county is fully supplied There is even complaint of scarcity of work

Milton M Holland a member of the Washington Emigrant Aid Society testified that its object was solely charitable—not to promote emigration but to aid the emigrants No political purpose was connected with it On their request a number of emigrants were sent to Ohio instead of Kansas The society has no agents whatever So far from the movement being republican the society felt very hard towards the republicans because they had not contributed much money He criticised the action of two cabinet officers who had subscribed fifty dollars each to the Irish relief fund and nothing to aid colored emigrants Witness is a clerk in a government department

Samuel A Perry, a dark mulatto testified that lately there had been much distress among the negroes chiefly on account of poor crops and severity of the landlord tenant and other laws One hundred negroes got together and endeavored to get some northern capitalists to help them emigrate There was no thought of an exodus They forwarded a petition to the National Emigration Aid Society, setting forth these facts Perry and a man named Williams as agents were sent west to look for a suitable location, their expenses being paid by the colony They finally reached Greencastle where some colored men told them that they could do well in Indiana They got out a lot of circulars favoring immigration to Indiana and went back to North Carolina

Cross-examined by Voorhees Was a slave before the war to as good a man as ever lived named Perry had never advised any one to go to Indiana he wrote home from Indiana to his friends that if he owned a lot in Indiana and one in hell he would sell the Indiana lot and reside in hell If the industrial and financial condition of the negroes was as good in Indiana as elsewhere witness would like to see enough negroes go there to revolutionize things politically but he did not hear a word about political intrigues, when he was in Indiana he consorted mostly with republicans, but so he did at home, and it was natural for him to do so, witness declared that he was done with the exodus and that he was advising people to go back.

THE PRESIDENCY.

The Omaha Evening News has made a canvass among Nebraska newspaper preferences Counties for Blaine 19 counties for Grant 3 Papers for Blaine 17 papers for Grant, 7, paper for Sherman 1 Of 110 Omaha business men interviewed 58 were for Blaine 34 for Grant 9 for Sherman, and the rest scattering

The Boston Daily Advertiser says At present Secretary Sherman would be the first choice of Massachusetts Republicans, but that is no reason why other candidates should not have fair treatment At any rate there is no occasion at this stage of the canvass to dogmatize about candidates

The Springfield (Mass ) Republican thinks Sherman is a sort of political Samson, who will pull down the pillars of the temple and bury some of his competitors in the ruins It says Sherman "is much surer to defeat the two leading competitors than to secure the prize himself but the contingency of his reward does not affect the real value and magnitude of the service itself"

Says "Templeton" the Boston correspondent of the Hartford Courant concerning presidential sentiment at Boston "If we could have a statesman like Sherman instead of Grant there would be hope of a full delegation from Massachusetts in his favor, and I am not sure but her better class of republicans would prefer the honest, pure and conservative, if not always consistent administration of President Hayes to anything else"

The New York Herald has a five-column "boom" for Conkling The last whoop is as follows "Still in the strength of mature manhood in the prime of intellectual vigor, with the enthusiasms of life unabated happily blessed in pecuniary competence, ranking high in the profession of his choice untarnished by avarice and untouched by any corrupt charge, Mr Conkling may, without audacity plume himself mentally, forensically and politically for flights more dazzling and discoveries far beyond the horizon of the past"

The Charleston News and Courier in speaking of presidential candidates says Already there is a hint that E B Washburne of Illinois is the 'coming man,' and we have no hesitation in saying that it would be harder to beat him than any other republican who has been spoken of as the probable candidate Mr Washburne's character is without a stain He has been out of the pool of politics for years and he is enthusiastically admired by the German Americans who dislike General Grant

Grant's Resolution.

[Washington Letter to the Philadelphia Times ]

General Grant has stopped the use of all liquors wines or beers, sure enough and such a change in a man was never known before He is not as fat as he was his face is thinner, paler and less apoplectic his eye is clear, and he has what the English call a smarter look about him Now if he only sticks to his resolution! He tells everybody that he feels much better when he does not drink, and that the enjoyment does not compensate It was strange that at the dinner given to the general by Senator Don Cameron when the former was here (as related to me by a gentleman present) three eminent drinkers turned down their glasses and did not take a drink of wine during the dinner and have taken nothing since I refer to General Grant Senator Matt Carpenter and Senator Cameron You may well understand what a sensation this created around the table I did not hear however that such a course impaired the appetite of the others present

An Experimenter

[From the London Punch

Two of those ornaments made of plaster of paris flavored with sugar were bestowed upon an urchin with the usual warning "Don't eat them whatever you do they will poison you" For some time they were regarded by him and his younger brother with mingled awe and admiration but at no distant day their mother missed one

"Tom" said she to the owner who was just setting forth for school "what have ye done with that figure"

"Give it to Dick" was the reply "and if he's living when I come home I mean to eat the other one myself I can tell ye"

A Bad Climate for Revolutions

[From the Richmond State Journal]

Does blood [illegible] They have been in a state of revolution in Maine for weeks now, and yet not a drop of blood has been spilt The climate is too cold to get their blood up to the proper temperature—to the spilling point Now had this been done in Louisiana or Texas the boys would have had plenty fun long before this time and populated several new made graveyards with their slain But it's all owing to how and where one is raised Blood will tell—but climate has much to do with it

Eastern Oregon

Cattle have fared well this winter in the vicinity of Prineville Wasco county

The Dalles Inland Empire The mills are both idle at present owing to the high price of wheat, the farmers demanding 60 cents per bushel It takes five bushels of wheat to make a barrel of flour making $4 7 and four sacks at 6¼ cents to sack it making $5 in all The market is full of Walla Walla flour at $5 per barrel hence it does not pay our millers to grind wheat just for the bran and middlings

Burglars held high carnival at The Dalles on the night of the 21 inst The first place visited was Charley Cooper's store The thieves effected an entrance through the rear of the building and carried off all manner of cutlery tobacco, cigars and other goods, to the amount of nearly $200 On the same night the Ark saloon, corner of third and Washington streets was entered by the light fingered gentry and robbed of cigars and liquors as well as a small amount of money which was in the drawer

Western Washington

Some black sand containing gold dust has been exhibited in Seattle this week which is said to have been obtained in the Black hills not over ten miles from Olympia Some parties propose investigating the matter

A portion of the territorial republican committee met at Olympia last Wednesday Four members out of nine were present. Three proxies were also offered but two of them were ruled out on the ground that the persons holding proxies had to be residents of the council districts in which the members of the committee reside. This simplified matters and secured unanimity after which a resolution was passed [illegible] Gov. Ferry's reappointment and Thomas [illegible] and Thomas H Brents were appointed delegates to the Chicago convention, with Geo H. Seward and James A Perkins as alternates.

THE RAILROAD BOOM.

A Lively Movement at The Dalles

The following interesting matter is from The Dalles Inland Empire of Saturday

Within the past ten days the appearance of our town has been that of a swarming hive Both the larger hotels crowded to the very garret and the landlords hunting for carpenters to build additional rooms The offices and barrooms of the Umatilla and Cosmopolitan reminded one of the Orleans and Golden Eagle at Sacramento on the night before the organization of a legislature And as for the Columbia and other hotels, they were crowded with men waiting opportunities to go to work Chief Engineer Thielsen and J L Hallett master of construction made their headquarters at the Cosmopolitan and there was nightly a constant string of visitors passing up the stairs to interview those gentlemen

At the front all is push, energy and animation Scores of men only too eager to work, are about the depot at Celilo, besieging Hallett for work Men of means well to do farmers come in search of employment for their teams offering to put on as high as forty teams in some instances. The pay is $4 per day for a man and two horses but if oats and hay should advance in price there would not be much profit in work at that price Yet there are some thrifty farmers who can bring their own grain and hay, and board themselves with their home-grown fruits, vegetables and meat and these fore-handed fellows will make money All day long the material train is passing to the front, with timbers for the bridges above here. The bridge timbers are all being furnished by William Grant at the Cascade Mills while Algeo & Davidson are getting out the ties near Mitchell's point The lumber for the bridge across the Walla Walla (for the road is being built at each end) is being got out of Clearwater, above Lewiston and ties for that end are being made on the Palouse, near Moscow W T

Capt George J Ainsworth general superintendent of the O S N Co who was here on Tuesday said "I am having everything put in order for a season of just twice as much business as we had last year and it would never do to have a breakdown on any part of the line or we won't be able to get away with it. The trade of this country above here has grown so that we cannot be any longer at the mercy either of ice or low water Crops have got to be brought to market as soon as harvested and this company is amply able to do it. We have all the boats running above Celilo that we dare risk but as soon as the water rises I shall crowd on more tonnage to relieve the granaries above This jam of freight can never by any possibility occur again"

Utah Northern Extension

From the Deer Lodge (Montana) New Northwest, of recent date we have the following important statements

The report that the Union Pacific Directory has ordered the construction at as early a day as possible of sixty miles more of the Utah & Northern Railroad revives interest in that enterprise As we understand distances, that will bring the road to within 25 miles of Beaverhead Rock The stoppage at Beaver Canon this winter was a serious mishap to Montana and a surprise to even those engaged in the construction The fact is that twenty two miles of iron ordered for and shipped to the Utah & Northern was stopped at Cheyenne and run down to Colorado to help out some some stock jobbing operation that was [illegible] it its business and the Montana iron could not be had in time to lay it over the range before the storm struck that broke backbone Even the management at Omaha were ignorant of this diversion of the iron until it was hopelessly gone but some one with considerable influence with the administration must have been in with the scheme

We understand the Directory is still desirous of establishing an extension of the Union Pacific Road to Portland Oregon and a call [illegible] will probably be made to induce Congress to permit the investment of the sinking fund of the Co in feeding lines in which case a [illegible] road from Ogden via Boise to Portland In that event it is not improbable a portion at least of the proposed narrow gauge road [illegible] would be utilized and its point of [illegible] would be established somewhere in the Snake River valley instead of at Ogden If this concession cannot be had a narrow gauge will probably be built as heretofore projected [illegible] the main [illegible] of the company will be directed to the Oregon extension

A DISGRACEFUL ROW —A big boom of valor prevailed for a brief period yesterday afternoon at the intersection of First and Stark streets between a brace of striplings One fancied that the other had insulted him the other preferred to be misunderstood and to endure the dire consequences rather than to show the white feather Both waxed warm in wrangling, and blows and blood resulted Several rounds were fought with considerable damage but with no apparent advantage to either [illegible] as the police did not [illegible] they might have [illegible] [illegible] and the valorous youths shook hands and parted friends

SOME FACTS ABOUT THE SIMCOE RESERVATION

FORT SIMCOE Feb 2, 1879

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

In the WEEKLY OREGONIAN of the 24th ultimo I notice a communication from Yakima City, which contains an allusion to this agency calculated to create an erroneous impression on the minds of those not personally acquainted here Among other items of news, the writer mentions that "J H Wilbur, agent of Yakima reservation is now buying all the wheat he can get to supply his Indians This don't look much like the Indians raised a surplus of forty thousand bushels, as was reported" Now, while this extract contains a portion of truth, it omits several important facts—doubtless unknown to the writer—necessary to a fair understanding of the subject It is true that agent Wilbur has been buying a limited quantity of wheat, true also that it is for the purpose of supplying Indians, but equally true that the Indians so supplied are not those belonging to this agency, but Piutes and Bannocks brought here as prisoners and also true that not one bushel has been bought outside the reservation

Where the report mentioned of a surplus of "forty thousand bushels" has circulated, I do not know We have heard nothing of it here When making his annual report last summer the agent I believe, estimated the probable number of bushels likely to be raised on the reservation at 40 000 and it is possible that he may have somewhat overestimated, though it is believed that the amount actually harvested fell very little, if any, short of the amount estimated

When they know the actual truth the people are not slow to do justice and though if one were to notice all the false reports current about this agency he would have time for little else, yet it is proper the truth should sometimes be made known

In this connection I desire to say that whether a surplus of forty or four thousand bushels has been raised, there has been enough to supply not only the wants of those belonging here, but of some 500 from the tribes mentioned above

Since the latter part of February 1879 this agency has been called on to furnish subsistence to some 500 (the number receipted for was 535) Piutes and Bannocks in addition to those belonging here They have regularly received rations of flour and beef amounting in the fourth quarter of 1879 to 46 000 pounds flour and 52 000 beef and aggregating in round numbers not less than 140 000 pounds flour and 160 000 pounds beef worth at least $10 400 and this enormous outlay has been met without one dime of appropriation from the government and without in any degree depending on outside assistance It is believed that no other agency in the United States could stand such an enormous drain on its resources without invoking the assistance of the government One fact like this is a sufficient refutation of all charges of incapacity and speaks volumes for the management of affairs by the agent Whether the much vaunted transfer of the Indian bureau to the war department will produce better results let the people judge

I beg to assure [illegible] & Tilton [illegible] What I did was merely to publish in self defense the official [illegible] procured by me from the county [illegible] of the various state and county taxes paid by the banks in this city, including our own (which shows our taxes paid by First National Bank), in order to refute a malicious attack made by a correspondent in THE OREGONIAN (who had no the courage to sign his name or even cognomen), to the effect first, that our bank paid no taxes whatever, and second, that our bank at the same time deducted every dollar from property returns of their indebtedness to [illegible] at Dundee, Scotland, a statement which the writer, whoever he was, knew to be false. If the Oregonian had as it ought to have asked me before publishing that malicious [illegible] whether the statements therein were true, neither the names nor statements of taxes of the National nor Ladd & Tilton or any other would have been published But I was forced for the protection of the interests of our bank to show by comparison with the other banks' returns, that we paid our share of taxes equally as they did Pardon me in saying one word: the taxes which all national banks, as corporations, do pay to the United States, are no more and less than what all other banks in this city pay to the United States for the same facilities including our own bank, excepting this, that national banks are not required and do not personally pay any State county or city taxes as the other banks in this city do The taxes which our bank offered to pay and do pay on $100 000 were entirely [illegible] as there is no law to compel us to pay any taxes whatever.

A HORRIBLE AFFAIR.

A Woman Ravished and Mortally Injured by Her Husband's Nephew—The Wretch Afterward Attempts to Kill Himself.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

LONDONDERRY, N. H., Feb. 8.—A fearful tragedy was enacted near this place yesterday in which Mrs. Sarah, aged 33, wife of E. N. Dillingham, a respectable farmer, was the victim, and the nephew of her husband, Frank Dillingham, aged about twenty, was the criminal. Frank went to live with his uncle last April, and yesterday Mr. Dillingham went to Manchester, leaving his nephew at work near the house. During the afternoon, William Wallace, a brother of Mrs. Dillingham, called to see his sister, and found the doors locked and the curtains drawn down. Supposing her to be asleep, he returned home. Soon after, Frank called at the country store of David Burns, only about 40 rods from the place of the tragedy, and called for Frank Burns, who came to the door, and young Dillingham said: "I have shot aunt Sarah." He was immediately taken into custody by persons in and about the store, who took him to Dillingham's house. Upon entering, a fearful spectacle met their gaze. Mrs. Dillingham was lying on the floor in a front room on her back with several garments thrown over her head and body. Upon examination they found a rope drawn tightly around her neck. Her clothing was disarranged and her face purple from the severe choking produced by the rope. A bullet wound was discovered at the base of the skull, the bullet having passed through the brain. Physicians were immediately summoned, who pronounced the case fatal, and death is momentarily expected. Frank says that he was cleaning a revolver, which was accidentally discharged, but does not attempt to account for the rope around his aunt's neck or the disordered condition of her underclothing. He says that he went into the woods back of the house and tried to shoot himself with the same revolver, but failed through lack of courage or some other cause, although one ugly bullet hole was made in his forehead, the ball penetrating the skull. Mrs. Dillingham, the victim of the terrible affair, is a comely, modest appearing young woman, very highly respected. The conclusion can hardly be avoided that the unfortunate woman was ravished either before or after the shooting and choking, and that her assailant then seeing the fearful crime he had committed, hastily fastened the door, pulled down the curtains and returned to the forest in the rear of the house with the intention of ending his miserable existence. His wound is not thought to be fatal.

DIPLOMATIC AND OTHERWISE.

Some Interesting Facts about Matters in Central Asia.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The blue book on Afghan affairs has been issued. Gen. Roberts reports a conversation held in October 1879 with Yakoob Khan, who stated that the British mission under Sir Neville Chamberlain was turned back by the advice of the Russian envoy at Cabul, Stolietoff, and that when Shere Ali quit Afghanistan in December 1878 he issued a firman to the authorities at Herat, declaring that Stolietoff had written him as follows: "The emperor's desire is that you should not admit the English into your country, and like last year you are to treat them with deceit until the cold season passes away; then the Almighty's will will be made manifest to you, that is to say, the Russian government will come to your assistance by diplomatic action, by which we will entirely cut off all English communication and interference with Afghanistan, or events will end in a mighty and important way." The blue book, respecting affairs in Central Asia, shows that on the 9th of July, 1879, Lord Salisbury, minister of foreign affairs, asked Count Schouvaloff, the Russian ambassador to England, whether there was any truth in the reports that the expedition from the Caspian was intended to occupy Merv. Count Schouvaloff said that the expedition was directed against the Tekke Turcomans, and that he entirely disbelieved the existence among any section of Russian statesmen of a wish to advance on Merv. On the 10th of July last, Digiers of the foreign office repeated these assurances to Lord Dufferin, British ambassador to Russia, in the most positive form.

SOUTH AMERICA.

Another War Brewing between the South American States.

LIMA, Jan. 13.—A rupture is expected between Chile and the Argentine confederation. Chile was to call [illegible] and heavy bounties were offered [illegible] It was said had purchased the Italian ironclads Roma and Venecia.

NEW BRUNSWICK.

Several Persons Drowned.

ST. JOHN, Feb. 7.—By the upsetting of a schooner at Cheneyscove, Grand Manor, Jno. Osbitt, Frank Robinson, John Larry, Miss Lindsay and Mrs. Lemon Franklip were drowned.

POLITICAL.

Another Villainous Steal Attempted by the Democrats.

[illegible] Feb. [illegible]—A democratic plot has been discovered to [illegible] It appears that the constitutional requirement that the ballots cast at elections be taken to M[illegible] and counted has long been disregarded by republicans. The Bourbon conspiracy comprehends sending in the votes cast in all democratic towns and at the proper time present a demand for a constitutional canvass, the result of which would be a Mussey bank triumph. The scheme is said to have its origin in the brains of the democratic national committee. To head off the attempt to carry it into execution the republican managers will soon direct every town clerk to search the organic law of the state and make a note of that portion referring to election returns.

Some Interesting Facts in Connection with the Harrisburg Job.

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—The Tribune's Washington correspondent gives facts of some importance connected with the Harrisburg convention which have not yet been reported. Five seats were contested. Holders of these seats were all Blaine men. The contests were referred to a machine committee and all contestants seated. They were without exception Cameron men. This made a difference of ten votes on a test ballot, and but for this arbitrary action of the Cameron managers Grant would have had only 10 instead of 20 majority.

Commencing Early.

Specials say there was a disgraceful squabble which ended in a fisticuff between two parties of negroes yesterday at a district republican convention to appoint delegates to the Chicago convention. The contestants were partisans of Grant and of Blaine.

Presidential Scheming.

The Times says referring to its Washington dispatches that Gen. Grant's friends at Washington are so confident of his nomination at Chicago that they are discussing the advisability of sounding Blaine on the subject of accepting the second place on the ticket. The theory entertained in some quarters that the general will not enter the canvass unless his nomination is secured without a contest, is ridiculed at the capital. Meanwhile opinions differ greatly about the position of Sherman and Blaine. One old politician says that it was very shrewd of Sherman to put up Blaine to antagonize Grant. Said he: "Blaine has begun the fight upon Grant, and it is now impossible for him to come in as an heir to Grant's strength. In case Grant is withdrawn these votes would much more naturally go to Sherman." Friends of Blaine said to-day, that the latter was not doing anything in the way of organizing, as he did the last time, and that he did not intend to raise his hand. All that is done must be done by his friends. He does not intend to have any sunstrokes from disappointment this time.

Delegates Chosen to Represent the D. C. in the Chicago Convention.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—After a stormy two days' session, the republican district convention adjourned this afternoon after selecting as delegates to the republican national convention at Chicago, John F. Cook and Sayles J. Bowen. No instructions were given.

WASHINGTON CITY.

A Disgraceful Scene.

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—The Journal's Washington correspondence says there is considerable talk to-day about the scene which occurred at the meeting of the senate census committee yesterday, when Senator Gordon denounced as an "infamous, infernal falsehood" a statement made to the committee by Alex. H. Stephens. There is a bitter feeling between Gordon and Ben Hill, and some friends of the latter think it will culminate in a hostile meeting yet.

Conkling's Health.

Senator Conkling's health is extremely poor.

The Woman's Rights Cause.

The house of representatives of the Iowa legislature this morning adopted, by a vote of 57 to 31, an amendment to the constitution to be submitted to the vote of the people, making free white women eligible as members of the legislature.

Want the Testimony.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The committee on Indian affairs have called upon the secretary of the interior to transmit to the house the testimony taken before the Indian commission consisting of Gens. Adams and Hatch in relation to the recent Ute outbreak and the efforts to arrest the authors of the outrage at the White river agency.

The Utes and Coloradans.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Henry O. Oldney of Colorado, register of the land office of San Juan district, testified to-day before the house committee on Indian affairs.

Postal Changes.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Postal changes for the Pacific coast last week. Offices established: Garibaldi, Tillamook county, Oregon, John H. Larson, postmaster; Meadows, Lewis county, W. T., Henry Shields, postmaster; Tenass, Whitman county, W. T. Postmasters appointed: Jonathan G. Sears, Nestocton, Tillamook county, Oregon; James M. Tracey, Yoncalla, Douglas county, Oregon.

Senator Grover's Health.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The report telegraphed to the Pacific coast that Senator Grover is dying in New York state of softening of the brain is wholly untrue. His wife has been seriously ill and he himself has recently been a little under the weather, but a letter was received in this city from him to-day in which, under date of Danville, N. Y., Feb. 5th, he writes about various matters in his usual clear and business-like style and says that he will return to Washington very soon.

The Indian Bureau.

No appointment to succeed Indian Commissioner Hayt has been determined upon. Secretary Schurz is said to have remarked to-day upon being asked when a new commissioner was to be appointed, that he intended to clear out the house before putting in a new tenant. From this it of course is inferred that additional removals of Indian bureau officials or employes may be expected shortly.

THE UTE NO-GO-CIATIONS.

Another "Good Indian" Discovered—A Grand Pow-wow to be Held—Etc., Etc.

LOS PINOS AGENCY, Feb. 3, VIA LAKE CITY, Feb. 8.—Yesterday a runner arrived at this agency whom Jack had ordered to inform Gen. Adams that it would be thirteen days before his return. Chief Shavano has expressed willingness to accompany the general to Washington. He is known as the war chief of the Utes, but of late years has settled down to farming and last year sold a load of provisions of his own raising, the first ever offered in the Ouray market by an Indian since this agency was established. He favors Schurz's policy that Utes must settle on farms and go to work. He will be of great assistance in settling the present difficulties. Orders have been sent by Chief Saponvaney for all the different bands to rendezvous near the agency, and a grand pow wow must be expected next week. Matters have been delayed very considerably by the press announcing the proposed trip of Gen. Adams, which Secretary Schurz attempted to keep secret. Some parties living near the line of the reservation saw it in the papers and reported it to the Indians, and Douglas immediately left for a more healthy location on Grand river.

The Sherman Club in Boston.

Boston Special, Jan. [illegible]

The formation of a Sherman club is among the probabilities of the near future in Boston. Men who were in the Bristow movement four years ago having had a conference on the subject. It is said that some very prominent Massachusetts men, some in high office, are in full sympathy with it. The Herald has all along fostered Sherman and the outspoken editorials of that paper has greatly stiffened the movement. Bristow was in town last week and expressed himself as a Sherman man.

The Paris Police.

PARIS, Feb. 8.—Mace, chief of police, has sent in his resignation explaining that it would be impossible for him to conscientiously retain his post while the present organization of the police is adhered to. He particularly complains of long delays which occur between the commission of crimes and the transmission of details to him by the juges d'instruction. To such unnecessary delay he attributes the escape of the assassin Walder.

Debate on Public Worship Estimates in the German Diet.

BERLIN, Feb. 8.—The lower house of the diet resumed debate on public worship estimates. Herr Iludzeosk complained of the harsh application of the May laws in the province of Posen. Herr Von Puttkammer, minister of worship, replied that the government never intended rendering the care of souls in vacant parishes a complete impossibility. The ministry throughout believe that the exercises of certain offices by clergymen of neighboring parishes was not illegal. Legal authorities were not always taking this view. The necessity for remedying this inconvenience became apparent and the government had ordered inquiry into each particular case. Replying to Herr Klotz, Herr Von Puttkammer said that the government will execute the ecclesiastical laws as long as they remain on the statute books. Herr Schlorermer objected to the item for an old Catholic bishop. Herr Von Puttkammer said that this arrangement was sanctioned by special law and a royal decree and no ground exists for altering it. The item was voted.

The Matter of Clerical Influence.

VIENNA, Feb. 7.—In the lower house to-day Herr Mergner submitted an interpellation describing as a menace to internal peace a petition presented to the minister of worship of Bohemian bishops asking for the restoration of the confessional and clerical influence in the schools. Herr Mergner asked the government what steps they intend taking to ward off such attacks on the peace of the state.

He explained that the advances would come out of the fund at the disposal of the Irish Church Temporalities Commission. Sir Stafford Northcote's bill was then brought in and read first time.

Plunkett bitterly denounced the defenders of the Irish land agitation.

F. H. O'Donnell (home rule) rose to a point of order to his expression.

The speaker ruled Plunkett's language unparliamentary.

Plunkett submitted to the ruling of the speaker and qualified his language slightly.

Alex. Martin Sullivan (home rule) energetically defended Parnell.

Right Hon. James Lowther, chief secretary to the lord lieutenant of Ireland, stated that no case of death from starvation had occurred in Ireland.

Mitchell Henry (home rule) moved the adjournment of the debate, which was agreed to.

TAXATION.

[illegible] FEBRUARY [illegible], 1880.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Permit me to say that your nameless correspondent of THE OREGONIAN is again misinformed. In everything he states in his letter this morning he is totally incorrect. There is not now nor for some time has there been any such company as that he names making mortgage or any other loans in Oregon or anywhere else, either directly or indirectly, or in any manner or way whatsoever.

The Oregon and Washington Mortgage Savings Bank of Portland—a very large number of whose stock holders are citizens of Oregon—is the only mortgage bank or company making such loans in Oregon, and the assessor of this county says it pays a tax on $100,000.

Sentiment toward Grant.

Washington Special, Jan. [illegible]

Hon. Fred Hassurek of Cincinnati is here and is the recipient of a good deal of attention, as it is conceded that the German citizens of Ohio hold the key of every important position. It is known that Mr. Hassurek is well acquainted with the opinions and feelings of the German citizens of Ohio, and he is asked forty times daily by the third termers, as well as by the Blaine and Sherman men, whether it is really true that the bulk of the German citizens will not support Grant under any circumstances. Mr. H[illegible] [illegible] knowledge and observation [illegible] Germans will not sanction Grant and a third term.

THE EXODUS INVESTIGATION.

A Mulatto Who Would Rather Live In Hell than in Indiana.

Testimony Showing How Destitute Negroes were Treated on Arriving at Shelbyville—Other Evidence.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. [illegible]—Before the senate exodus committee [illegible] Hickney presented [illegible] the history of the Shelbyville [illegible] colored emigrants arrived [illegible] December 12th last. The mayor called a meeting of the council and provision was made for the destitute. About [illegible] came afterward. These men are still located in or about the town. Witness had heard of two or three other companies coming near Shelbyville. The county is democratic, but the congressional district is doubtful and very [illegible]. A meeting of citizens was held at which it was resolved that the law of 1851 [illegible] a penalty of $500 upon any one who should bring a pauper into the [illegible] should be enforced by proper [illegible]. There [illegible] at that all democrats [illegible] emigrants [illegible] and probably most of the respectable republicans. [illegible] also. It [illegible] has generally discountenanced the movement. The demand for labor in Shelby county is fully supplied. There is even complaint of scarcity of work.

Milton M. Holland, a member of the Washington Emigration Aid Society, testified that its object was solely charitable—not to promote emigration but to aid the emigrants. No political purpose was connected with it. Of those [illegible] a [illegible] emigrants were sent to Ohio instead of Kansas. The society has no agents whatever. [illegible] far from the movement being republican, the society felt very hard towards the republicans because they had not contributed much money. He criticised the action of two cabinet officers who had subscribed fifty dollars each to the Irish relief fund and nothing to aid colored emigrants. Witness is a clerk in a government department.

Samuel A. Perry, a dark mulatto, testified that lately there had been much distress among the negroes, chiefly on account of poor crops and severity of the landlord tenant and other laws. One hundred negroes got together and endeavored to get some northern capitalists to help them emigrate. There was no thought of an exodus. They forwarded a petition to the National Emigration Aid Society setting forth these facts. Perry and a man named Williams as agents were sent west to look for a suitable location, their expenses being paid by the colony. They finally reached Greencastle, where some colored men told them that they could do well in Indiana. They got out a lot of circulars favoring immigration to Indiana and went back to North Carolina.

Cross-examined by Voorhees: Was a slave before the war to as good a man as ever lived, named Perry; had never advised any one to go to Indiana; he wrote home from Indiana to his friends that if he owned a lot in Indiana and one in hell he would sell the Indiana lot and reside in hell; if the industrial and financial condition of the negroes was as good in Indiana as elsewhere witness would like to see enough negroes there to revolutionize things politically, but he did not hear a word about political intrigues; when he was in Indiana he consorted mostly with republicans, but so he did at home, and it was natural for him to do so, witness declared that he was done with the exodus and that he was advising people to go back.

THE PRESIDENCY.

The Omaha Evening News has made a canvass among Nebraska newspaper preferences. Counties for Blaine, 19; counties for Grant, 3. Papers for Blaine, 17; papers for Grant, 7; paper for Sherman, 1. Of 110 Omaha business men interviewed, 48 were for Blaine, 34 for Grant, 9 for Sherman, and the rest scattering.

The Boston Daily Advertiser says: At present Secretary Sherman would be the first choice of Massachusetts Republicans, but that is no reason why other candidates should not have fair treatment. At any rate there is no occasion at this stage of the canvass to dogmatize about candidates.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican thinks Sherman is a sort of political Samson, who will pull down the pillars of the temple and bury some of his competitors in the ruins. It says Sherman "is much surer to defeat the two leading competitors than to secure the prize himself, but the contingency of his reward does not affect the real value and magnitude of the service itself."

Says "Templeton," the Boston correspondent of the Hartford Courant, concerning presidential sentiment at Boston: "If we could have a statesman like Sherman instead of Grant there would be hope of a full delegation from Massachusetts in his favor, and I am not sure but her better class of republicans would prefer the honest, pure and conservative, if not always consistent administration of President Hayes to anything else."

The New York Herald has a five-column "boom" for Conkling. The last whoop is as follows: "Still in the strength of mature manhood, in the prime of intellectual vigor, with the enthusiasms of life unabated, happily blessed in pecuniary competence, ranking high in the profession of his choice, untarnished by avarice and untouched by any corrupt charge, Mr. Conkling may, without audacity, plume himself mentally, forensically and politically for flights more dazzling and discoveries far beyond the horizon of the past."

The Charleston News and Courier, in speaking of presidential candidates, says: "Already there is a hint that E. B. Washburne, of Illinois, is the coming man, and we have no hesitation in saying that it would be harder to beat him than any other republican who has been spoken of as the probable candidate. Mr. Washburne's character is without a stain. He has been out of the pool of politics for years and he is enthusiastically admired by the German Americans, who dislike General Grant."

Grant's Resolution.

[Washington Letter to the Philadelphia Times.]

General Grant has stopped the use of all liquors, wines or beers, sure enough, and such a change in a man was never known before. He is not as fat as he was, his face is thinner, paler and less apoplectic, his eye is clear and he has what the English call a smarter look about him. Now the only sticks to his resolution. He tells everybody that he feels much better when he does not drink, and that the enjoyment does not compensate. It was strange that at the dinner given to the general by Senator Don Cameron, when the former was here (as related to me by a gentleman present), three eminent drinkers turned down their glasses and did not take a drink of wine during the dinner, and have taken nothing since. I refer to General Grant, Senator Matt Carpenter and Senator Cameron. You may well understand what a sensation this created. [illegible] I did not hear, however, that such a course impaired the appetite of the others present.

An Experimenter.

From the [illegible]

Two of those ornaments of plaster of paris flavored with sugar were bought upon an urchin with the usual warning: "Don't eat them whatever you do; they will poison you." For some time they were regarded by him and his younger brother with mingled awe and admiration, but at length disappeared one day their mother missed one.

"Tom," said she to the owner, who was just setting, "[illegible] what have you done with that figure?"

"Gave it to Dick," was the reply, "and if he's living when I come home I'm going to eat [illegible] one [illegible]."

A Bad Climate for Revolutions.

[illegible]

[illegible] in a state of revolution in Maine for weeks now, and yet not a drop of blood has been spilt. The climate is too cold to get their blood up to the proper temperature—to the spilling point. Now had this been done in Louisiana or Texas the boys would have had plenty fun long before this time and populated several new made graveyards with their slain. But it's all owing to how and where one is raised. Blood will tell—but climate has much to do with it.

Eastern Oregon.

Cattle have fared well this winter in the vicinity of Prineville, Wasco county.

The Dalles Inland Empire: The mills are both idle at present owing to the high price of wheat, the farmers demanding 80 cents per bushel. It takes five bushels of wheat to make a barrel of flour, making $4.00, and four sacks at 6¼ cents to sack it, making $4.25 in all. The market is full of Walla Walla flour at $5 per barrel, hence it does not pay our millers to grind wheat just for the bran and middlings.

Burglars held high carnival at The Dalles on the night of the 23 inst. The first place visited was Charley Cooper's store. The thieves effected an entrance through the rear of the building and carried off all manner of cutlery, tobacco, cigars and other goods to the amount of nearly $200. On the same night the Ark saloon, corner of third and Washington streets, was entered by the light fingered gentry and robbed of cigars and liquors as well as a small amount of money which was in the drawer.

Western Washington.

Some black sand containing gold dust has been exhibited in Seattle this week, which is said to have been obtained in the Black hills, not over ten miles from Olympia. Some parties propose investigating the matter.

A portion of the territorial republican committee met at Olympia last Wednesday. Four members out of nine were present. Three proxies were also offered, but two of them were ruled out on the ground that the persons holding proxies had to be residents of the council districts in which the members of the committee reside. This simplified matters and secured unanimity, after which a resolution was passed asking Gov. Ferry's reappointment, and Thomas F. Minor and Thomas H. Brents were appointed delegates to the Chicago convention, with Geo. H. Seward and James A. Perkins as alternates.

THE RAILROAD BOOM.

A Lively Movement at The Dalles.

The following interesting matter is from The Dalles Inland Empire of Saturday:

Within the past ten days the appearance of our town has been that of a swarming hive. Both the larger hotels crowded to the very garret and the landlords hunting for carpenters to build additional rooms. The offices and barrooms of the Umatilla and Cosmopolitan reminded one of the Orleans and Golden Eagle at Sacramento on the night before the organization of a legislature. And as for the Columbia and other hotels, they were crowded with men waiting opportunities to go to work. Chief Engineer Thielsen and J. L. Hallett, master of construction, made their headquarters at the Cosmopolitan, and there was nightly a constant stream of visitors passing up the stairs to interview these gentlemen.

At the front all is push, energy and animation. Scores of men, only too eager to work, are about the depot at Celilo besieging Hallett for work. Men of means well to do farmers come in search of employment for their teams, offering to put on as high as forty teams in some instances. The pay is $4 per day for a man and two horses, but if oats and hay should advance in price there would not be much profit in work at that price. Yet there are some thrifty farmers who can bring their own grain and hay, and board themselves with their home-grown fruits, vegetables and meats, and these fore-handed fellows will make money. All day long the material train is passing to the front with timbers for the bridges above here. The bridge timbers are all being furnished by William Grant at the Cascade Mills, while Algeo & Davidson are getting out the ties near Mitchell's point. The lumber for the bridge across the Walla Walla (for the road is being built at each end) is being got out of Clearwater above Lewiston, and ties for that end are being made on the Palouse, near Moscow, W. T.

Capt. George J. Ainsworth, general superintendent of the O. S. N. Co., who was here on Tuesday, said: "I am having everything put in order for a season of just twice as much business as we had last year, and it would never do to have a break down on any part of the line, or we would be able to get away with it. The trade of this country above here has grown so that we cannot be any longer at the mercy either of low or low water. Crops have got to be brought to market as soon as harvested, and this company is simply able to do it. We have all the boats running above Celilo that we dare risk, but as soon as the water rises I shall crowd on more tonnage to relieve the granaries above. This jam of freight can never by any possibility occur again."

Utah Northern Extension.

From the Deer Lodge (Montana) New Northwest of recent date we have the following important statements:

The report that the Union Pacific Directory has ordered the construction at as early a day as possible of sixty miles more of the Utah & Northern Railroad revives interest in that enterprise. As we understand distances, that will bring the road to within 25 miles of Beaverhead Rock. The stoppage at Beaver Canyon this winter was a serious mishap to Montana and a surprise to even those engaged in the construction. The fact is that twenty-two miles of iron ordered for and shipped to the Utah & Northern was nipped at Cheyenne and run down to Colorado to help out some stock jobbing operation that [illegible] [illegible] and the Montanans [illegible] could not be had in time to lay it over the range before the storm struck that backbone. Even the management at Omaha were ignorant of this diversion of the iron until it was hopelessly gone, but some one with considerable influence with the administration must have been in with the scheme.

We understand the Directory is still desirous of establishing an extension from the Union Pacific Road to [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] will probably be made to induce Congress to permit the investment of the sinking fund of the Co. [illegible] feeding lines [illegible] from Ogden via Boise [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the Oregon Short Line [illegible] [illegible] instead of at Ogden. If this concession can be had a narrow gauge will probably be built as far as [illegible] the company will be directed to the Oregon coast.

A DOWN-TOWN ROW.—A big boom of valor prevailed for a brief period yesterday afternoon at the intersection of First and Stark streets between a brace of striplings. One fancied that the other had insulted him, the other preferred to be misunderstood and to endure the dire consequences rather than to show the white feather. Both waxed warm in wrangling, and blows and blood resulted. Several rounds were fought with considerable damage but with no apparent advantage to either combatant, and as the police [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] youths shook hands and parted friends.

Chance for a Vacation to Mr. Tilden.

St. Louis Post Dispatch.

If the republicans of New York carry out their scheme of choosing presidential electors by congressional districts instead of on a general ticket, Mr. Tilden will not be able to go a fishing next year. We will hear no more about his claim to the empire state. That will be some consolation.

WALLA WALLA, Feb. The boys marched in uniform with a torch light procession and band through the principal streets and then adjourned to the Stine House, where a banquet was held. Speeches were made by the mayor and other prominent citizens. Walla Walla has now one of the best fire departments on the coast and all is harmonious.

Coal Shipment—A Puget Sound Cargo—A Rush to the Skagit.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

SEATTLE, Feb. 8.—The Renton Talbot Coal Co. made their first shipment of coal to San Francisco last week, 750 tons per barkentine Tam O'Shanter.

The P. M. S. S. Co.'s steamship Dakota sailed hence for San Francisco this morning taking 25 passengers and the following freight: $1859 in treasure, 7856 sacks oats, 2048 sks potatoes, 204 sks wheat, 12 bls [illegible], 2 bls wool, 42 pkgs merchandise, 335 green hides, 60 dry hides, 30 bales skins and pelts, 18 sks oysters, 2[illegible]8 bundles hoops, 8 barrels salmon, 34 cases clams.

SOME FACTS ABOUT THE SIMCOE RESERVATION.

FORT SIMCOE, Feb. [illegible], 1880.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In the WEEKLY OREGONIAN of the 24th ultimo I notice a communication from Yakima City, which contains an allusion to this agency calculated to create an erroneous impression on the minds of those not personally acquainted here. Among other items of news, the writer mentions that "J. H. Wilbur, agent of Yakima reservation, is now buying all the wheat he can get to supply his Indians. This don't look much like the Indians raised a surplus of forty thousand bushels, as was reported." Now while this extract contains a portion of truth, it omits several important facts—doubtless unknown to the writer—necessary to a fair understanding of the subject. It is true that agent Wilbur has been buying a limited quantity of wheat; true also that it is for the purpose of supplying Indians, but equally true that the Indians so supplied are not those belonging to this agency, but Piutes and Bannocks brought here as prisoners, and also true that not one bushel has been bought outside the reservation.

Where the report mentioned of a surplus of "forty thousand bushels" has circulated I do not know. We have heard nothing of it here. When making his annual report last summer the agent, I believe, estimated the probable number of bushels likely to be raised on the reservation at 40,000, and it is possible that he may have somewhat overestimated, though it is believed that the amount actually harvested fell very little if any, short of the amount estimated.

When they know the actual truth the people are not slow to do justice, and though if one were to notice all the false reports current about this agency he would have time for little else, yet it is proper the truth should sometimes be made known.

In this connection I desire to say that whether a surplus of forty or four thousand bushels has been raised, there has been enough to supply not only the wants of those belonging here, but of some 500 from the tribes mentioned above.

Since the latter part of February, 1879, this agency has been called on to furnish subsistence to some 500 (the number receipted for was 535) Piutes and Bannocks, in addition to those belonging here. They have regularly received rations of flour and beef amounting in the fourth quarter of 1879 to [illegible],000 pounds flour and 52,000 beef, and aggregating in round numbers not less than 1[illegible]0,000 pounds flour and 160,000 pounds beef, worth at least $10,400, and this enormous outlay has been met without one line of appropriation from the government, and without in any degree depending on outside assistance. It is believed that no other agency in the United States could stand such an enormous drain on its resources without invoking the assistance of the government. One fact like this is a sufficient refutation of all charges of incapacity, and speaks volumes for the management of affairs by the agent. Whether the much vaunted transfer of the Indian bureau to the war department will produce better results let the public judge.

Very respectfully,

[illegible]

Taxation.
PORTLAND, Jan. [illegible]
TO THE EDITOR OF THE TELEGRAM:
I beg to assure the First National Bank and Ladd & Tilton, that I had no desire whatever to challenge their integrity or doubt their tax statements. What I did was merely to publish in self defense the official statement procured by me from the county assessor, of the various state and county taxes paid by all the banks in this city, including our own (which shows no taxes paid by First National Bank), in order to refute a malicious attack made by a correspondent in THE OREGONIAN (who had not the courage to sign his name or even a cognomen), to the effect first, that our bank paid no taxes whatever and second that our borrowers at the same time deducted every dollar from their property returns of their indebtedness to us payable at Dundee, Scotland, a statement which the writer, whoever he was, knew to be false. If the Oregonian had, as it ought to have done, asked me before publishing that malicious letter whether the statements therein were true, neither the names nor statements of taxes of the First National nor Ladd & Tilton or any other bank would have been published. But I was bound in the protection of the interests of our bank, to show by comparison with the other banks' tax returns that we paid our share of taxes equally as they did. Pardon me in saying one word: The taxes which all national banks as corporations, do pay to the United States, are no more and no less than what all other banks in this city pay to the United States for the same facilities, including our own bank, excepting this, that national banks are not required and do not personally pay any State county or city taxes as the other banks in this city do. The taxes which our bank offered to pay and do pay on $100,000 were entirely gratuitous, as there is no law to compel us to pay any taxes whatever.

MONDAY MORNING FEB 188

A MISTAKEN DEPARTURE

On frequent occasions heretofore The Oregonian has entered its protest against the tendency of the time in regard to the public schools. It has noted as all observing persons must have noted the tendency which has carried the schools far beyond the original object of common schools and has built up and continues to build up and extend an elaborate complex and costly system. It has spoken freely its views as to the effect of this system not only as a growing burden upon the community and a burden which sooner or later will reach a point where its growth must be arrested but also as a means of training up our youth in a way which really disqualifies them for the active and practical duties of life. It finds that a growing number of people are beginning to understand the force of the objections. It is a public duty to sustain the public schools. But there is a point at which this duty is discharged and that point is reached when the community has afforded all its children and youth opportunity for instruction in elementary knowledge, or the fundamental branches of education.

In nearly every city there has been growing up during the last ten years an elaborate public school machinery, largely managed and directed by those whom it supports. Nominally it is controlled by the taxpayers of the districts, but in reality by associations of persons who live as professionals upon the public school system. This class virtually have supreme control. They organize the system and prescribe its course. Whatever additional machinery can be devised, whatever additional methods introduced, are usually adopted. The scheme is made up without regard to the purse of taxpayers, and then the announcement is made that about such sum of money will be required for the next year. And it is expected to be forthcoming as if those who furnish the money had nothing to do but go through the double formula of voting it and paying it. Thus an organization has been formed around our public schools in many places that controls the system on which the schools are founded. Instead of being the servant, it is the master of the system. The limit to which it will extend, unless it be checked by wholesome restrictions judiciously applied, is the ultimate patience of the people and their ability to pay its bills. It is growing that way very rapidly now and here as well as elsewhere. Every additional thousand dollars raised for it interests other persons in it. Like everything else maintained at the public expense its appetite grows by what it feeds on. This is not an accusation against it; it is merely what we should expect, and is simply an argument for keeping it, as every other public institution, under judicious control.

What is demanded is abandonment of an artificial, costly and elaborate system and a return so far as judgment may commend to the simple yet effective methods of the old common schools. One may boldly affirm that we now get no better elementary scholarship out of a cumbrous and expensive system than we did years ago out of a system much more simple and less costly. Indeed the tendency is to slur over the common studies which lie at the basis of all good culture, and to cram pupils with a lot of new fangled finical stuff, gotten up on the theory that old fashioned ways of learning to read and spell and count are unworthy the improvements of the present age.

In the high-school feature of the public school system two main points are involved. First, as to additional expenditure and second, as to the effect upon the lower grades of the false assumption that all of the pupils seeking free instruction are necessarily candidates for admission to the high schools. The money taken from the taxpayers for the support of the high schools is expended for the benefit of a class who, almost without exception, are very well able to pay directly for instruction in the classics and the higher mathematics, instead of being made a charge upon the general body of the people. But this class has no better claim upon the bounty of the public than law and medical students have while pursuing their studies privately or at college. The youth who at the age of twelve enters a machine shop to learn a business which will insure to him a livelihood is obliged to rely upon his own resources or those of his parents for a number of years, and yet his parents, either directly or indirectly, are compelled to pay onerous taxes in order that the son or daughter of their neighbor may have free instruction in the languages and the higher mathematics. The very numerous class represented by the former cannot afford to keep their children at the high schools, while their neighbors, who can easily meet this expense, are at the same time abundantly able to pay directly the entire cost of the advanced instruction. The few should not be favored in this manner at the expense of the mass of the people.

In the second place, acting on the theory that all the applicants for free instruction are bound for the high schools, children are treated in strict accordance with this belief from the moment they enter the primary departments. The system is organized throughout with this theory in view. It is altogether erroneous. Its result is to build up an intricate and expensive system, and it is apt to lead to neglect of thoroughness in the primary departments. We believe that few children are taught now to read and spell as thoroughly as all who went to school were taught these things years ago though now, of course, no end of superficial accomplishments is added, and no end of books, maps, charts diagrams and other expensive apparatus is required.

There is no part of the country where people are not considering this departure from the simplicity of the common school system and its consequences. Shallow persons will of course, always raise the cry that those who criticise the present tendency are enemies of popular education. But that is too contemptible to be called an argument and requires no answer.

STRONG GOVERNMENT

The Strong Government Idea is reviewed in the Atlantic for February. The writer does not, however enter upon a long review of the history of the country to prove that up to this time there has been steady progress towards the realization of a broad ideal of national authority. It is taken for granted that everybody knows that the constitution grew out of the demonstrated weakness of the confederate scheme of government, how the ability of the nation to deal with foreign enemies was shown by the war of 1812 and the Mexican war, how in the long conflict between the opposing theories of state sovereignty and national supremacy the former idea grew in strength while the latter drew its nourishment only from the exigencies of the slave system, and how, finally, the civil war made the one theory patriotism and loyalty, and the other treason while immensely strengthening the reorganized powers of the national government, and giving it a hold on the hearts of the people it never had before. The states-rights theory, survives it, is true, but only as a sentiment associated with the beaten rebellion. Even in the south the younger generation does not understand what [illegible] are for it. The intelligent whites have little use for it to some extent under the cry of home rule to release themselves from the consequences of negro suffrage but it is not the living force in the [illegible] victions of great masses of people which it used to be. In one place there has come what the democrats call opposition to the centralizing tendencies of the republican party. The existence and strength of the tendency towards nationality are clearly shown by the avowal by one political party and by the tendency of the other to antagonize it with the outgrowth of state rights. It may be said in reply that we have a great political party opposed to centralization and that its triumph which in the natural course of politics must some day come will reverse the engine and set the country back toward the old states rights theories. Sure enough the masses of the democratic party in the north are opposed to a strong government. Being incapable of governing themselves wisely they dislike all forms of restraining authority. The leaders imagine just at present that they want to abstract power from the national government and distribute it among states. Let them once get possession of the administration at Washington and they will change their tune. There is a great deal of truth in the remark made by President Hayes recently that the party in power always favors a strong government and the party out of power opposes it.

The south may probably be expected to remain for many years attached to its states rights notions by reason of its natural desire to escape from the results of its defeat in war and the unwillingness of its governing classes to recognize the full citizenship of the negroes but the south will not be formidable much longer. Political power in this country is fast passing to the growing west which is increasing in strength every day. The census of 1880 will shear the south of a large part of its legislative power, and the census of 1890 will still further reduce its weight in electoral colleges and in congress. While the east has got its growth and the south is standing still so as not to get out of sight of its former delusions and mistakes, the great west with an almost limitless food-producing capacity a population made up from the enterprising from all sections free from hampering prejudices and outworn fallacies, and imbued with a strong sentiment of nationality will continue to increase in power and from its central position will reach out to govern the extremities of the country. Whatever may be the attitude of parties, therefore, the working of the forces which are producing great compact nationalities wherever civilization prevails is not likely to be much impeded in the United States. But will not this crowding of the state governments into narrower fields of action and this enlargement of the powers of the national government, weaken and in the end destroy republican institutions? Not necessarily. The demand for a stronger central government carries with it no disposition to surrender individual rights. The citizen believes that the central power is a more effectual agency to protect his rights and work out the beneficial results to him than the state can possibly be. He does not relinquish the principle that government should be for the sake of the governed. Never was republicanism stronger in the world than to-day. It would be folly to suppose that while Europe is weakening the authority of its sovereigns or getting rid of them altogether, America is going to set up a Cæsar. The great majority of the voting population will always be composed of men of small means or no means and the national government will be their servant and not the tool of great capitalists or corporations. Universal suffrage may work much mischief before universal education leavens it with judgment but it will not enslave itself. No tyrant will be raised upon its shoulders. The strong government toward which we are steadily tending, we feel assured will be a government of the people, by the people and for the people.

We cheerfully print another note from Mr William Reid. It is proper to allow the public to know that there is no such company as the Oregon and Washington Trust Investment Company now making loans in Oregon. Our correspondent did not assert there was, but only submitted an inquiry about it. Yet there is another question which might be asked in the public interest, to wit, whether such company, though not now making loans in Oregon, does not still hold large loans formerly made within this state? All the statements made by the writer in our columns, Mr Reid says, are incorrect. It would be easy to show that Mr Reid has herein made too sweeping a statement. Doubtless on reflection he will be able to recollect that he was in Salem in 1878 opposing the bill under which, if passed, there could have been no doubt of the liability of foreign corporations doing business in the state to pay their proportion of taxes. In this and other matters stated certainly the correspondent was not wrong. But this is not a subject to be run into personal disputation. The discussion is a proper one only in so far as it will serve to elucidate a subject of universal public interest. To such inquiry fairness frankness and perfect freedom from rancor are essential. Mr Reid and his business have not been spoken of by The Oregonian or by any correspondent as we believe otherwise than in a spirit of good will or with a purpose to make plainer a general subject of public interest which has always been difficult and obscure.

Political managers in Washington territory, instead of calling a convention to appoint delegates to Chicago and to nominate a candidate for the delegateship in congress which could have been done any time within the next three months got together a portion of the territorial republican committee at Olympia last week and appointed two delegates. It was manipulated by the Ferry ring not so much for the sake of naming the delegates to the Chicago convention as for the purpose of getting an expression from the committee in favor of Ferry's reappointment,—an expression which it was feared would be more difficult to obtain from a full convention. Of course the resolution in Ferry's behalf was adopted as prepared for the occasion. The Oregonian has heretofore expressed its views as to Ferry's reappointment. He has been a professional officeholder during most of a pretty long life and it would be nothing less than cruelty to turn away from the public crib one who has so long fed there and who has no ability to get a livelihood in any other way. It is to be hoped therefore that the president will give his case a sort of compassionate consideration. The delegates appointed for the Chicago convention we must add, are unexceptionable men — the object of calling the committee not being so much the appointment of delegates as to get an "expression" for Ferry.

An article on Turkey recently appeared in the National Gazette of Berlin a semi official paper, which has attracted wide attention in Europe. The article predicted the near death of the Ottoman empire. This dissolution was not anticipated as a result of foreign aggression, but for the reason that Turkey having exhausted without success every expedient for raising money and being absolutely without the funds necessary to meet her daily needs cannot much longer prolong her existence. The Gazette regrets that in the partition of Turkey which was sanctioned by the Berlin treaty Germany should have received nothing. It claims that in any future division of Turkey Germany should assert her right to compensations equal at least in value to the increase of territory which may be acquired by any other nations. As most of the articles of the Gazette derive their tone from the foreign office at Berlin it is more than probable that the article in question was approved by Bismarck prior to its publication. Such an article from such a source could not fail of course to receive wide attention. It is one of the signs which tend to increase the growing uncertainty of peaceful maintenance of the present status of Europe.

The dispatch announcing the election of delegates from the district of Columbia to the Chicago convention does not indicate the preference of the delegates on the presidential question but it may be stated with certainty that they are for Blaine. Sayles J Bowen has been a pronounced Blaine man from the first and is strongly opposed to Grant. It seems there was a hot contest in the convention. It is something of a [illegible] that the Grant people were defeated in Washington where they are exceptionally strong.

The library association of Portland is an institution of great and permanent value. The report of the president published to day contains much matter of interest. An appeal is made for increase of the home fund which ought to be met by public spirited citizens. As the city grows there should also be steady increase of membership, with added means of support and improvement.

The Utes went to war because they would not accept the ways of civilization which they said were being forced on them. But a lot of them have been in Washington attending the performance of the Black Crook and are now said to have reached the conclusion that civilization has some attractions worth living for after all.

As a free democratic critic the Mercury since its removal to Portland is making the fur fly. Criticism of men and measures in the democratic press is so rare in the democratic party that when a journal does appear which has courage to engage in it in an independent way its course justly attracts notice.

The commissioner of agriculture, in his report for the year 1879 says that his department is very deficient as to information regarding the vegetation of Oregon and Washington, and that means are much needed to place botanical collectors in the field in these and other places to supply the want.

The New York Sun appeals in a double leaded leader for an enthusiastic celebration of the approaching 22d of February, and says

It was Washington's voluntary retirement at the expiration of his second term which gave the finishing touch to his fame and made it immortal."

Secretary Schurz is still having numerous talks with Indian chiefs at Washington at which he promises them everything and they promise him everything. Then they take another cup of coffee and a sandwich all round at the secretary's expense.

Some idea of the extent to which the telephone is superseding the telegraph in Great Britain may be drawn from the fact that the government (which has a monopoly of the latter) is trying to choke off the new invention or make it pay tribute.

Four Chinese have been admitted to membership in the Second Presbyterian church at Indianapolis, and one has become a naturalized citizen. This ought to scare the Indiana politicians as much as the advent of the negro exodists.

CITY

ARCHBISHOP [illegible] LECTURE — A very interesting lecture on Alaska will be delivered at Turn Halle [illegible] Tuesday evening His Grace Archbishop Seghers will appear for the first time before a Portland audience, and as he reverend [illegible] ability and eloquence we feel sure that a great many citizens will avail themselves of this opportunity to [illegible] the [illegible] of the extensive travels of the archbishop through Alaska territory His grace will deliver his lecture in an Alaskan apparel which he has received as a present [illegible] that country He also will introduce a great many songs of the natives of that The object for which this lecture will be given is a most worthy one namely that of raising funds for the rebuilding of [illegible] church East Portland which was destroyed by the late disastrous storm that swept over this country Secure your tickets in time and give your mite towards this good object

DISCHARGED—REARRESTED — Judge Deady in the United States district court Saturday discharged Jack Williams the man who shot and dangerously wounded a man named Roy in Sitka some months ago The discharge was granted on the ground that the United States court for this district had no jurisdiction in the case Soon after being released Williams was arrested by detective Hudson charged with the crime of highway robbery committed last summer Williams and pal garroted a man named Luttrell on B street near West Park taking from him about $400 After the robbery Williams and his companion took passage on the steamer California and went to Sitka Luttrell is said resides near Oregon City and is wanted as a witness in this case An effort will be made to arrest Williams companion who is now somewhere in Alaska Williams will probably not escape so easily from the clutches of the law this time

ONLY THE FIFTEENTH —Last Friday the wife of Mr R D Austin of East Portland presented her liege lord with a bouncing daughter There is nothing very remarkable in this event, but when the fact is considered that Mrs Austin had made fourteen such presents to her husband before the last the circumstance acquires much additional interest "Ross is an old typ who manipulated antimony on the Times which was published years ago in Portland and is a musician of no mean attainments He is also the happy and proud father of fifteen children East Portland needs a few more such fathers, and then her big sister on this side of the river would have to look out or her laurels on the question of population

FAREWELL BENEFIT.—Prior to her departure from Melbourne, Australia, Miss Augusta Dargon was the recipient of a farewell benefit. It was a perfect ovation, the house being packed from pit to dome. A number of the prominent representative men of the city were present at the benefit, including the mayor of Melbourne. Miss Dargon appeared in her great character of "Queen Mary" in which she achieved a marked artistic success. The press of Melbourne speak in the highest terms of the performance and of the actress

DRUGGED AND ROBBED —Kadeshan one of the Alaska chiefs who is now visiting this city, was victimized on Friday night last by some white man, who drugged him and got his money, $57 Kadeshan refused to touch whisky, but was beguiled into tasting something which he was assured was not liquor The vile mixture confused his brain and made him somewhat violent The severe penalty of the law should be meted out to a wretch who would thus betray and rob an unsuspecting stranger

VEREIN EINTRACHT — The Verein Eintracht numbering 175 members elected the following officers for the next six months President, John Wagner, vice president Jo Schmitz, recording secretary H Orthmann financial secretary, F Windeler treasurer F. Botefuhr, stage director S Schumann director of singing section, John Leck property man F Heise librarian Kapus on Bichel, sick committee, William Lindermann, C Kobler and Paul Reichert

ARTICLES FILED —The Bialock Flume and Lumber Company yesterday filed articles of incorporation in the office of the secretary of state, its occupation and purpose being to construct and operate a canal or flume from Bialock mountain in Umatilla county to the Blue mountain extension of the Walla Walla and Columbia river railroad at or near Milton, for the purpose of transporting lumber etc. Capital stock $50 000 N G Blalock E. W. Colby and D S. Colby, incorporators.

INCREASING THEIR FORCE.—Mr Wm R Boone who is favorably known as having occupied prominent positions on various local papers, has been added to the editorial force of the Evening Telegram and enters upon the duties of city editor this morning That paper has commenced a series of improvements which will make it much more valuable than heretofore.

HOLLADAY'S CLAIM —On the 5th inst. the senate claims committee, by a vote of eight against one, decided to recommend the passage of the bill to pay Ben Holladay's claim of over $500 000 for losses sustained by him while carrying the overland mail to California by reason of changes of route and Indian depredations.

WAITING FOR SIGNATURES —The petition to congress asking the modification or repeal of the act granting three months pay to seamen discharged in foreign ports will be open for signatures to-day. It is intended to forward the petition to the east to-morrow and those who desire to sign it should do so to-day

U S. CIRCUIT COURT —Judge Deady will announce a decision this morning in this court in the case of the United States vs Humason, upon the motion to strike out parts of the replication and in Balfour et al vs. Barnard upon the motion to strike out the plea of property

CONCERT —Next Friday evening a grand concert—vocal and instrumental—will be given at Turn Halle for the benefit of the Masonic board of relief A splendid programme will be presented on the occasion Full particulars will be timely published

M O OFFICE FOR EAST PORTLAND —The Vindicator announces that the postal authorities at Washington city have ordered a money order department to be established July 1st, in connection with the East Portland office

AMUSEMENTS

NEW MARKET THEATER.—The first week of the winter dramatic season closed Saturday night with Enoch Arden which was witnessed by the largest audience of the week The play follows Tennyson's familiar poem closely, adding to the [illegible] first [illegible] Mr Chaplin in the title role as the [illegible] the loving ambitious seaman the [illegible] broken hearted weary wanderer returning to his [illegible] display [illegible] at [illegible] the parting scene between [illegible] over [illegible] joy when rescued from [illegible] his [illegible] agony [illegible] wife happy [illegible] home of Philip Ray and the dying scene at the tavern of Miriam Lane were grand bursts of impassioned acting and called forth enthusiastic plaudits The support throughout was good Especially pleasing were the Annie Lee of Miss Adams and the Philip Ray of Mr Lindsay Enoch Arden should be repeated before Mr. Chaplin's engagement closes.

In the after piece Miss Granville the very accomplished and fascinating comedian made quite a hit as Constantia Beverly and won several rounds of applause with her excellent singing and piquante acting To-night the well known and interesting comedy Our American Cousin will be presented with Mr Chaplin as Lord Dundreary

WILL APPEAR.—To morrow evening Miss Josie Cameron will make her first appearance before a Portland public in the character of Julia in Sheridan Knowles' play of The Hunchback Miss Cameron made her debut a short time since at Baldwin's Theater in the same character The press of San Francisco spoke in favorable terms of the lady's first histrionic effort She will be supported by the full company

PORTLAND LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

Sixteenth Annual Meeting—President's Annual Report Election of Two Directors.

The [illegible] annual meeting of the members of the Library Association of Portland was held at the library rooms on Saturday evening February [illegible]

Hon Matthew P Deady president in the chair

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved

The president then read his annual report which on motion of Mr Lewis was accepted and ordered to be entered in the minutes

The next business of the evening was the election of two new directors in place of C H Lewis and M W Fechheimer whose term of office had expired when C H Lewis and M Fechheimer having received a majority of all the votes cast were [illegible] declared elected directors of the Library Association of Portland

Mr Fechheimer moved that the directors be requested to have the reports of this year and last published in pamphlet form [illegible] carried

President's Report.

To the Members [illegible] —Here with I present [illegible] my annual report of the work [illegible] condition of the society during the year 1879

In [illegible] nothing unusual has occurred in the affairs of the association but the library has more than kept pace with its surroundings and steadily increased in usefulness and prosperity The gain in books members and current receipts has been fully up to the average while the increase of the permanent funds amounts to $1301 0[illegible]

The following details concerning the working and condition of the library are drawn from the books [illegible] the annual report of the librarian Mr Henry Oxer of the treasurer Mr [illegible] of the finance committee Mr C H Lewis and Mr William M Ladd

BOOKS AND [illegible]

At the close of the year 1879 the actual number of volumes in the library was 8880 During the year [illegible] volumes—[illegible] purchased [illegible] at a cost of $[illegible] [illegible] classified by the librarian as follows

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Fiction | [illegible] | Poetry | 33 |
| History | [illegible] | Religion | 14 |
| Travels | [illegible] | Science & Government | 41 |
| Biography | [illegible] | Miscellaneous | 14 |
| Science | 10 | Bound Periodicals | 58 |
| Total | | | 665 |

The whole number of books loaned during the year was 16 8[illegible] classified as follows

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Fiction | 12 9[illegible] | Poetry | 243 |
| History | 6[illegible] | Religion | [illegible] |
| Travels | [illegible] | Miscellaneous | [illegible] |
| Biography | 8[illegible] | Politics & Government | 87 |
| Science | 4[illegible] | Bound Periodicals | [illegible] |
| Total | | | 16 8[illegible] |

This is an increase of 1601 volumes or 10¾ per cent on the circulation of 1878

During the year there was regularly received and kept on file in the library rooms 147 periodicals. Of these [illegible] were American 21 English 4 German and [illegible] colonial Of the American 61 were published in the Atlantic states 40 in Oregon [illegible] in Washington territory 1 in Idaho and 9 in California. The periods of their publication were as follows Daily 13 semi and tri weekly 8 weekly 8[illegible] monthly 33, and quarterly 8. Those published in Oregon Washington and Idaho are kindly furnished by the publishers free of charge and the remainder were furnished at a cost of $391 85 A large and well selected list of periodicals adds very much to the usefulness and attractiveness of a public library and reading room The fresh and vigorous thought and speculation upon almost all topics of public interest first appears in the columns of the newspaper and magazine Accordingly the library committee have always endeavored to make the periodicals a prominent feature of the library Only a want of means has prevented them from doing more than they have in this direction In the mean time we earnestly invite all publishers and particularly those upon this coast, to send us complimentary copies of their publications

Lists of the publications presented to the library and the periodicals received during the year marked A and B are hereto annexed.

MEMBERSHIP

During the year 1879 589 persons were members of the association classified as follows perpetual 52, life 1 monthly 344 quarterly 175 honorary 18 against 471 in 1878 classified as follows perpetual 51 life 1 yearly, 2, quarterly 179 monthly 218, honorary 14 The monthly and quarterly membership varies, of course from one month to a year but the average which is obtained by dividing the amount of the dues received on that account by $12 the dues for a year is 204.9 In 1878 the average was 193¾ which shows an increase of 14 subscribing members and 1 perpetual

| Outstanding warrant. | 4 00 |
| Reserved salary of librarian | 100 00 |
| Liability of fund | $300 00 |

And on Dec 31 1879 as follows

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Cash on hand as per report of treasurer | | $805 48 |
| Outstanding warrants as per report of finance committee | $241 25 | |
| Reserved salary of librarian | 100 00 | —$341 25 |
| Balance in fund | | $24 24 |

From this it appears that the monthly dues and fines have paid the current expenses of the rooms and librarian—a deficit of $196 88 in the receipts of 1878—and produced a balance of $124 24.

THE HOME FUND.

On Dec. 31 1878 this fund amounted to $12 755 48 of which $1 449 02 was obtained from interest on the same during the year

On Dec 31 1879 the fund amounted to $13 899 53 of which $1144 05 was interest earned during the year

It is now about seven years since this fund was started by a subscription of $9 216 and it seems time that some addition should be made to it in the same way There are doubtless many public spirited persons in Portland who are able and willing to assist in adding $5000 to this fund by subscription during the year 1880 Besides it ought not to be forgotten that there is a sort of an implied understanding that while Mr Ladd furnishes the library a house free of rent the friends of the same would from time to time make substantial contributions to this fund

THE BOOK FUND

On December 31 1878 this fund amounted to $12 750 of which $10 500 was loaned on note and mortgage and $2250 was in notes for balances owing on subscriptions to perpetual membership During the year 1879 it was increased $250 by the sale of a perpetual membership to Mr Henry V [illegible]

On December 31 1879 the fund amounted to $13 000 of which $12 000 was loaned on note and mortgage at 10 per centum per annum and $1000 was in notes for balances owing on subscriptions to perpetual membership

The proceeds of this fund are applied exclusively to the purchase of reading matter and to keep the supply up to the demand it is necessary that it should be increased every year Let every member and friend then of the association resolve to aid this undertaking by obtaining a subscriber for a perpetual membership during the coming year

This stock although not upon the books of the brokers of Pine and Wall streets is marked high in the catalogue of good works and will pay dividends when the bonanzas are only remembered as a feverish dream

INCOME OF BOOK FUND

The receipts and expenditures of this fund during the year were as follows

RECEIPTS

| | |
|---|---|
| Interest on book fund | $ [illegible] |
| Sale of periodicals | 1 |
| Sale of books | 4 50 |
| Total receipts | $ 3[illegible] |

EXPENDITURES

| | |
|---|---|
| Books | $1 14 |
| Periodicals | 9 85 |
| Bookbinding | 2[illegible] |
| Total expenditures | $1[illegible] |
| Excess of expenditures over receipts | 8 9 |

On December 31 1878 the condition of this fund was as follows

| | |
|---|---|
| Outstanding warrants | $ [illegible] 7 |
| Cash in hands of treasurer | [illegible] 38 |
| Liability of fund | $101 79 |

And on December 31 1879 as follows

| | |
|---|---|
| Outstanding warrants as per report of finance committee | $401 1 |
| Overdrawn as per report of treasurer | [illegible] |
| Liability of fund | $ [illegible] |
| Deficit for the year | $ [illegible] |

[illegible] by present [illegible] means probably that we must deny our readers the benefit of some [illegible] that we ought to and [illegible] them But the true remedy is to increase the book fund To day it ought not to be less than $[illegible] 00 and we can easily make it so if [illegible]

THE CATALOGUE OR PRINTING FUND

This fund was commenced in 1878 by subscription for the purpose of publishing a catalogue and the proceedings of the association I think its name might be appropriately changed to that of the printing fund The amount received from subscriptions [illegible] was $[illegible] and from the [illegible] sale of [illegible] the same [illegible]

| [illegible] | 611 75 |
| [illegible] | 158 5 |
| Net assets | $1 [illegible] |

This shows [illegible] year of $1 33 22 against [illegible] The directors [illegible] for about [illegible] 12 as before and [illegible] membership was disposed of [illegible] three [illegible]

There has been no change in the officers of the association [illegible] in the election of Mr Roswell H Lamson as director in the place of Mr Lehman Blum resigned on account of changing his residence to Eastern Oregon Mr Blum was a [illegible] friend of the library and always [illegible] its affairs and labored to promote its welfare He had served as director from 18[illegible]

Mr Philip [illegible] to act as treasurer of the association and Mr M W Fechheimer as corresponding secretary

Mr Henry Oxer is still employed as librarian at [illegible] A [illegible] beginning of the last quarter an addition of $[illegible] per month was added to his salary to enable him to employ an assistant during the evening This he has done with the approbation of the directors by employing Mr Charles H Woodward

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS.

The terms of two directors Mr C H Lewis and Mr M W Fechheimer expire at this term and their places are now to be filled by you for the ensuing ten years

These gentlemen have been diligent and faithful in their positions and it is to be hoped that they will consent to serve you as directors for another term

Mr Fechheimer has been a director since 1872 and a substantial contributor to the funds of the association Mr Lewis has served as such since the organization of the society in 1864 He assisted liberally in the establishment of the library and has ever since given freely of his time and money to promote the interest and prosperity of the association Without the aid and encouragement of such men the library could neither have been founded nor maintained

NEW YORK FREIGHTS AND MARKETS

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN]

New York, Feb — [illegible] the freight market via Cape Horn and [illegible] immediate prospect of improvement [illegible] is probable that after shippers who are [illegible] back their freight in expectation [illegible] anxious to take it and [illegible] there will be more doing by clippers. The [illegible] are not going to run into competition [illegible] clippers does not seem to be understood by [illegible] shippers and such is the fact. The [illegible] are anxious to do business for money and [illegible] satisfied that there is freight enough [illegible] class and that they can carry in competition with the railroads and [illegible] the clippers alone for the present. There is much anxiety to know what rates steamers will make to shippers [illegible] Inquiries have been made but the officials [illegible] very reticent and refer shippers to their late circular which states that on and after [illegible] the company will be prepared to make time contracts and give special rates. Generally the opinion gains ground that there will be no fight between the two companies and that the whole thing is a stock jobbing and that working arrangements satisfactory to both will be entered into.

Freights at Boston are rather quiet and the [illegible] Lauren will load slowly. Railroad freights at Boston are also very quiet, with shipments the past week of only 874 packages miscellaneous goods.

At Philadelphia the freight market is very flat although both lines expect to get a vessel off in few days.

Foreign Fruits—Dull raisins very slow and easier, prunes, unchanged fine lots held steady but the average run of stock is irregular.

Currants—Weak and dull.

Sundried Apples—Good demand and firm evaporated dull and easy.

The distribution of general merchandise is rather moderate, and very little change in values. However, in manufactures for the spring trade the movement is in excess of the average of recent years, and the prospects for a good business is very encouraging.

Breadstuffs continue in good export demand and the market quite steady.

Provisions—Dull and nominal.

Rio Coffee—Moderate demand values nominal.

Refined Sugar—Rather limited demand prices hardly so stiff, with a shade lower in some cases crushed, 9½c; powdered and cut loaf 9½c granulated, 9@9⅞c; coffee and standard [illegible] at 8¾@9c; white extra C 8⅝@8¾c; extra C [illegible] C 7¾@8c; yellow, 7¼@7½c.

Teas—Good supply, demand slow.

Hides—Dull, prices weak.

Leather—Better demand at last quotation.

Borax—Fair demand [illegible]

Quicksilver—[illegible]

Petroleum—F[illegible]

Turpentine [illegible]

Paints—Dull.

Hardware—Continued good demand [illegible] all around, with general [illegible]

[illegible] good demand [illegible] cotton and woolen goods.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN]

Chicago Feb 8—The grain markets have been in a rather steady condition during the week. The fluctuation in wheat during the entire week was only three cents, and the daily range was less than one cent. Corn was comparatively more active but was very weak, while wheat was generally firm. There are no especial features to note. The ring have held with a hard grip on wheat, and apparently another ring is getting the corn for a long pull. The large quantities in store give the shorts a good deal of consolation, while the fact that grain has been moving out nearly as rapidly as received and the prospect of a decided break in railroad rates in the near future, makes the hold out more confident than ever. It is noteworthy that the receipts of wheat with the price at $1 20 are less than a quarter what they were last year at this time when the price was 87c. This signifies one of two things that the supplies in farmers' hands are much depleted or that farmers have unbounded confidence in higher prices. The roads in the country are now well smoothed off, and there is no obstacle to shipment beyond the somewhat restricted storage capacity.

Provisions under increased receipts heavy stocks on hand and the pressure to sell by the packers, have declined rapidly, pork having weakened $1 10 per barrel, and lard 60 cents per hundred. The short hog crop does not figure much in the face of these depressing influences. It is, however a matter of figures that the packers cannot manufacture with profit at the rates for the product now prevailing and as their efforts to depress prices are more successful in the manufactured than with the raw material it does not appear [illegible] the wisdom of their proceeding unless they intend to buy in at the decline and then bull the market to the short side.

Sales of the March option for the week, wheat $1 20@1 22⅝. Corn, $1 35@$1 37¼. Oats 3[illegible]@ [illegible] Pork $12 65@$12 75. Lard $7 07½@8 [illegible]

[illegible] March prices; Wheat $1 21¼ bid. Corn, [illegible] Oats, 32c. Pork $11 70. Lard $7 07½ bid.

[illegible] cash prices: Wheat $1 21, Corn 3[illegible] [illegible] Oats 41¾ Rye 76 Barley 82c@85c Pork $11 60, Lard, $7 07. Whisky was $7 [illegible]

Receipts for the week—Wheat 109 000 bushels corn 822 000 bushels oats, 103 000 bushels.

Shipments—Wheat, 95 000 bushels corn 5[illegible] 000 bushels, oats, 73,000 bushel.

Receipts the same time last year—Wheat, 479,000 bushels, corn, 8[illegible]4 000 bushels; oats 138 000 bushels.

Shipments—Wheat 267 000 bushels corn 4[illegible],000 bushels, oats, 10[illegible],000 bushels.

The Wheat Surplus.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN]

New York, Feb. 7—The Commercial Bulletin says: Private and better information than the newspapers afford place the surplus of wheat this season in Australia and New Zealand at 3[illegible] 000 tons. Mercantile letters from Victoria and New Zealand estimate the probable surplus of these colonies at 150 000 tons respectively. So great has been the pressure for vessels to carry the Australian supply that freights from that country to England have risen from 35 to 55s per ton. From these sources England apparently expects to draw 25,200,000 bushels. Reports from India also warrant the expectation of an unusually large crop but no definite estimates are given. Chili also stands among the tropical countries that have an unusual surplus of wheat for export. No definite estimates of the Chilian crop have yet appeared. Putting together the exportable surplus from all the aforementioned countries the aggregate may perhaps have been taken at 27,000 000 bushels above the average of late years and beyond what was expected when the estimates of the result of the harvests of 1879 were made up. The bringing of this new factor upon the prospects of our own exports is too obvious to need much comment. English stocks of wheat are ample enough to enable that country to wait for these supplies from the Pacific, and it is to be expected that every effort will be made to postpone purchases in the United States.

ANOTHER SUFFERER

Snatched from the Grave.

I THINK IT MY DUTY TO SUFFERING HUMANITY to make the following statement. My wife's sufferings were unbearable doctoring all the time still she grew worse and weaker every day still she was a mere skeleton. As a last and only resort, I was advised to consult DR VAN DEN BERGH sr. I must say I had but little faith in her ever getting relieved. The Doctor made a very thorough examination he said it was possible to effect a cure in three months. He stated worms were the cause of the gnawing sensation and the great distress and pain in her stomach also the female and nervous debility and all other miseries. After taking his medicine for about [illegible] days she commenced getting better and kept on getting better and gained strength and 16 pounds of solid flesh during the treatment. Thanks to the Doctor for saving my wife from an early grave and my little children from being motherless. For any further information inquire at my residence and see my wife herself No 66 South Fifth and Sherman streets.

The Size of a Walnut Without the Loss of a single Drop of Blood

After doctoring for seven long years with many doctors and surgeons and suffering during all that time the great pain and agony no rest day or night, I consulted DR VAN DEN BERGH of [illegible] First street Portland he said operation was out of the question but he would remove the stone which was the size of a walnut by drilling. The first drilling [illegible] five hours and brought [illegible] half of the stone away in small gravel and sand and not a single drop of blood which gave a great relief. The following week after two and a half hours of skillful drilling the [illegible] ground the remainder of the stone also in fine gravel and sand without the loss of a single drop of blood and thanks to the doctor's skillful treatment I am cured of the most [illegible] and painful malady known to the medical profession. ## LANDS,

PEN D OREILLE DIVISION.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY

Is now offering for sale nearly

5 000,000

Acres of its lands in the Pen d Oreille Division in Eastern Oregon which are comprised in the odd numbered sections for forty miles on each side of the railroad as now located from the mouth of Snake River in Washington Territory, to Lake Pen d Oreille in Idaho. These lands of unexcelled fertility and adapted to farming on any scale that may be desired are offered by the Railroad Company at such prices and terms as cannot fail to induce settlement and cultivation, causing a rapid growth in population of the country and increase in value to those who now purchase.

The following Resolution of the Board of Directors of the Railroad Company passed November 19th 1879 fixes the cash price of land to actual settlers at two dollars and sixty cents per acre which it is believed is a lower price than has ever been voluntarily placed upon its lands by any land grant company. This is in fact, cheaper than the settler can purchase the same class of land of the Government under the preemption law, for the expense attending the making of final proof and the journey to the land office which he must necessarily make in order to complete his entry, is more than the ten cents per acre added to the government price by the Railroad Company.

Resolved That the Agricultural Lands of the Company west of the Missouri river to Puget Sound shall be offered for sale to actual settlers at Government price of $2 50 per acre with an addition thereto of ten cents per acre to be paid to the Company to reimburse it for the cost of selecting surveying and conveying said land.

This resolution does not apply to coal or iron lands nor to lands chiefly valuable for timber, nor to lands required for town sites or suitable for manufacturing sites nor in regions where water is scarce to lands containing springs or other natural supply where it shall be for the interest of settlers at large that such water privileges shall not be exclusively held or controlled by any individual nor to the lands required for the use of the Company in connection with the operation of the road.

To persons wishing to purchase on time the remarkably low price of four dollars per acre is given on the following terms. One fourth cash at time of purchase the balance in three equal yearly payments at 7 per cent interest. The above price for time sales is adopted for the present but may be subject to change in the future.

All persons who have filed with the Railroad Company notices of intention to purchase, or Settlers' Applications, as they are called for land in this Division (except for the class of lands reserved by the terms of the resolution above given) and who have continued to reside upon or cultivate the land applied for, are requested to complete their purchase by making cash payment, or time contract, for the same. For this purpose application should be made to the Railroad Land Office at Colfax.

Persons who have not made actual settlement or improvement upon land they may have applied for have no right to the first privilege of purchase such lands will be sold to the first applicant. Those persons who have in good faith settled upon and improved the Company's land should lose no time in securing the same as after a given time the land is subject to sale to any other person.

The land in this division being now offered for sale no more "Settlers' Applications" will be filed.
